Artist Name: Alvin

I am drawn to topics that speak loudest to me. There are studies which suggest that from infancy on into the toddler stages of life, Children are more likely to suffer traumas of separation anxiety that they carry into adulthood if they are unplugged from the family unit. In my mind technology is one driver of these separations. And so, this is what it looks like in my mind's eye

Alvin