Artist Name: Peter Versluys

I hope that you enjoy my art. Like I said last year, I like to do my one line drawings. And I can see you like my out of the Box Ideas I come up with. There is one piece that is close to me. It's one of my "one line" dawings, Its titled "Lavender." I have been fighting throat Cancer off and on for the last 5 years now. Lavender is the color for throat Cancer. The last 5 years I didn't tell PCAP about my Cancer. This little line drawing represents that there is HOPE. I had up and down days. I ask, "Why me, Why." Some days I felt that I want to give up. But I still keep on fighting The Song, "Fight Song," by Rachel Platten. That gives me HOPE. If you know anybody With Cancer, Tell them there is HOPE. DON'T EVER GIVE UP! PCAP thank you for giving me the opportunity to share my love through my art.
