Artist Name: Roemello Boseman

My name is Roemello Boseman, I go by "mello". While I tattoo as a profession, my first love has always been traditional forms of Art. Most of the art I do is heavily influenced by my favorite genres of books and movies (fantasy/metal), but also I try to depict the inner struggles with emotion. Mostly this manifests in struggles with depression and anxiety as I struggle with both personally, therefore nearly all of my illustrations are done in a very dark style. I also feel as though the dark/moody nature more accurately represents struggles with darker emotions, and I love to represent a visual genre I feel gets represented "too lightly" as opposed to the darker more stark visuals that more accurately represent the "feel" of these emotions. Thanks for reading! =)

Enjoy the Art!
