

Artist Name: Jack C Bier III (JB3)

I choose to paint and create this art from feelings coming from inside me, the situations I'm living in, and pure in the moment ideas. I'm not perfect but none in life is. One of the words I use to describe each piece I've selected to turn in. I am on a life within a word in prison. I decided to strive to find the positive here when others choose negative. I hope that everyone who sees or purchases a piece of my art will truly connect with it. Each piece is unique in its own way. Every person lives through similar dark up/downs Bright times, dark times. I will continue to create and grow, so will this world. Eventually we'll all flow into each other. Painting gives me peace and calmness in a crazy place. Enjoy ☺
