

Artist Name: ALEC STINES (AJS)

Being in Prison can be a productive experience or a complete waste of time and your creativity is a magical trait that can never be taken away. Whether it be drawing, painting, writing or music, you have the ability to leave your cell and create your own universe and express this ~~is~~ in any way you see fit.

Drawing has helped me express myself and give me purpose as well as a form of achievement that is hard to explain in words and is better if you experience yourself.

There truly is nothing like the feeling of completing something you created yourself.
