Small World, Inside the Reflection

LAST year I presented "Into The Wazoo" to the public for the first time, It was a failed attempt to impress my daughter Cassidy, so I have scraped that particular idea and created my copy written body of work called "Inside The Reflection" Jester Princess shattering the mirror is so profound in its concept, meaning and artistic purpose, The other pieces that I'm donating to PCAPP are an expression of what the people want, "Prison ART", To be honest, I despise "Prison ART", Bars, Prayer hands, weird slogans and stereotypical artistic pieces of art, The art exhibition is me versus five hundred plus prisoners on the battlefield of paper, My weapons are pencils, pens and crayola and Prang colored pencils, You will never see me use prisma color, I strive to be unique and seperated from the crowd, Art is an external expression of what dwells within you, outside of studying and practicing Law within prison, I draw, I don't enter my art to make a buck, I come to blow your eyes and intellect away with the beauty of originality, The pieces that I am submitting next year are going to set the bar for those prison artists that want to battle in my world, To the young women that draw, I'm rockin with you because footglits rock! I can be contacted on JPAY.COM for more art, . . .
