

Artist Name: Brad Cournaya

it's hard for me to express myself, Art to me is an outlet, I've done Horrible things in my life and most people look At me like An Animal, through my Art I hope people see the MAN, A MAN who's MADE mistakes.. I enjoy making things that make people say wow how did he do that? I like making things wich can actually be played with or used in some fashion, If I can put A smile on someones face, it puts one on mine also.. I'm not sure what you would call my style? I just try to do whatever comes to my mind, I work on one thing while thinking of Another, I try to make durable things that can be used, my nieces and neplews, my kids my whole family Are my testers.. 😊 drawing, Building things keeps me BALANCED if ya will, Most of All it keeps the inner child in me Alive And well.
