

Artist Name: Christopher Smith #662126

with nothing but time that is lost and I'll never get back I used a simple pen and pencil to create the image in my mind and guided me through each day. while feeling lost and alone at times my art has got me through many tough days and kept me focused on a better path toward change and hope for a clearer future and life. Thank you for looking and seeing my art even if you can't understand it my hope is someone else will feel it in some way, shape, or form. And maybe help them the way it helps me

Thank you,
Chris Smith
