I am a creative soul at heart, involving myself in various different forms such as painting, sculpting, singing and poetry. I have been creating art for around 20+ years and though I am more drawn to singing, drawing seems to be a constant comfort in my life. I also started to learn how to crochet in 2018 and is fast becoming a favorite.

I am inspired by a multitude of things in my life from my friends & family, religion & politics and especially my difficulties in transition from male to female, but it's the courage and strength displayed by all women that pushes me to create to my best ability.
