

Artist Statement — 30th Annual Exhibition of Artists in Michigan Prisons

Artist Name: KERRI LEIRSTEIN aka lil BABY

My intention is to include those whom view my art and to encourage self-expression. To give and share my art so that people get a sense of who I am. I love that my art provides an open door. Encourages embodiment of values, principles, and ethics. To provide a strong and stable emotional connection thru sharing.

What I hope others will understand from looking at my pieces is that there is a place all their own in each piece I create and their perspective and perceptions are valued both alike and different than my own. Those whom see my art also receive it. Creating an emotional connection through and with unconditional love that connects each and every one of us and embraces us all as one.
