A Driven Heart, One Nation

Art has become a way for me to release a creativeness with in my self. It allows a person to exspress themselves and show things that words cannot. I enjoy the calm feeling that comes with art work. I've only been drawing for about 2 months and will never stop as it has came to me with such ease. I've got to give alot of the credit to my current bunkie who pushed me at the same time showed me along the way.
