

Artist Name: STAMUS

Friend is the final product of a 3 1/2 year process that I wish I had the transitional prices, but due to MDOC transitions they were lost. This is started as a tracing of a smaller photo that I used a grid to enlarge and give detail. I used many different media during the process and finally decided on the brown mixed media as more of availability than anything, but I think it brings the object into focus better. As a little security feature I placed my artist mark  in the photo I drew
