PCAP 27th Annual exhibition Artist statement

Conditions in prison make it extremely hard to create art. Poor light conditions and not having access to the proper tools. But, you overcome this and find a way. For the love of art and beauty of the world. However, I will not be able to continue acrylic painting. This will be my last year until I am released from prison. Carson City's policy will not allow inmates the primary colors to create colors to paint (NO blue, black, brown, Gray) Or any color similar

This means I cannot paint - it is impossible w/out the primary colors. This year I have submitted these abstracts as part of my evolving art style. These original works cannot be duplicated - they are one of a kind. The rendering of Lady Justice is an idea I have worked on and adjusted.

I hope you enjoy the painting of the Warbler. Imagine the work I could do w/the right paint colors, tools, and lighting? I worked hard on this and hope you enjoy my work. Thank-you for buying my art - it helps me keep going each year.
