This Rock Goes Nowhere

I am a newly self taught artist. I started doing art as a way to pass the time during my incarceration, I quickly realized it was much more than just a way to pass the time. Exploring my artistic capabilities has also given me inner peace and a window into my soul of who I am as a person and where I want to go in life after my incarceration. In the last few years, my insight to create has influenced me to better myself in everyway possible, including my education which has led me to persue two associate degrees while in prison. In the name of art, I have been able to create and transform myself in profound ways

In the future, as my art continues to flourish and develop, I too aspire to do the same. Sincerely, Ricky McKaskle
