

Artist Statement: 27th Annual Exhibition of Artists in Michigan Prisons

Artist Name: Gregory Kopiciko-Jones

For me art is the expression of my innermost self, I find inspiration through most things in my life, but mostly when I have no other way to free myself from reality.

Each piece that I'm submitting each express the way I capture the world through my mind's eye.

The process by which I've come to create them really was spontaneous, I start with an idea and put lines on paper.

My style is a mixture of urban street and realism.

What I mean to achieve with my work is to captivate all who see it. Everything within the image is apart of who I am as a person and expresses what state of mind I'm in, as well as giving its viewer a relative message.
