

Artist Statement: 26th Annual Exhibition of Art by Michigan Prisoners

Artist Name: Candy Lawson

I still consider myself a tattoo artist, even though incarcerated now, I feel like that part of me will never be "gone". My artwork is normally more of a "tattoo" style, although I have been venturing outside my room lately. I am Native American, and love to draw/paint anything that is reflective of my culture & heritage. I can draw just about anything, including portraits, but usually find myself venturing back to skulls & such... traditional tattoo images. I am inspired by everything! I literally am kept awake at night with ideas for artwork swirling in my head. I find it an honor & privilege to display my artwork to the world!

Miigwech for this opportunity,
Candy

Please edit your Artist Statement to the space provided.