My first piece, "The Forgotten Heart Of The World," is an extension of my piece from last year. I also dedicate it to the women and men and children who has struggled with heart issues. Some may have beaten their battles and sadly some have lost. This is also dedicated to those in the medical field who perform procedures, operate, all techs, nurses and students, CNA's and last of care workers who are there at the First Heart Beat to The Last Heart Beat. And to my mother Patricia, the best heart & lung surgical tech in the world.

My second piece "Underneath Myself" is just simply the layers of my life and exactly how I feel most days. Very confused and sad, and angry mixed with a bit of happiness.
