

Artist Statement — 30th Annual Exhibition of Artists in Michigan Prisons

Artist Name: Joseph McGuire

My choices have led me to prison. The time I have spent destroying and ruining what I could not control led me to focus my time and energy on creating something positive with a deep purpose. Prison teaches you to change. I have lived and I have learned. I have grown and I have seen the consequences of my choices effect those around me. We all must be responsible for our choices. Just don't let your choices poor your life down the drain.
