

Artist Name: Jerry Wooster

Since coming to prison, I've dealt with severe anxiety and depression. A friend taught me how to crochet. I have found this hobby to be rewarding in the fact that it calms me, brings me out of my depressive thoughts and I can escape into a, "zen" sort of world.

My art show choices are corralled by the advice that I receive every year by all that see and comment on my work. There's so much that I have done that only a few get to see. 😞 So, please keep sending me feedback, whether good or constructive. That's what makes me strive.
