I use alot of different moods, Emotions, and thought to inspire my art. But lately I've been going through a lot mentally, And emotionally, And my faith has really been getting to me lately, So I've been really leaning into my faith alot. And its literally felt like a port in the storm for me lately, like a light house guiding a ship home, on a dark sea, So I tried to bring that concept to life in this years exhibit, to show everyone, that know matter how hard lifes sea's can get YAHWEH can lead you home.
