

Artist Statement: 27th Annual Exhibition of Artists in Michigan Prisons

Artist Name: Dale Lee Roberts Jr.

I never really started drawing until I was incarcerated and was encouraged to make cards for guys to make money. I seem to do ok and decided to enter this art exhibit after some buddies said I should enter. My father made a living as an painter of North American Wild life. I doubt I'll ever make a living as an artist but I enjoy drawing as its a means to pass alot of time. I like to draw things pertaining to my heritage but enjoy drawing whatever anyone wants me to put on paper. Others seem to get alot of enjoyment from my art which is a motivating factor in my drawing.
