

Artist Name: Kevin Berry

The pieces I have created are a reflection of the season I have been in: conflict and contemplation. I have been fighting for my freedom, with the loss of my mother, the daily grind of academia, and with myself. However, within these conflict, I contemplate.

What is to be gained? How is this formative? Why am I reacting in such a way? Who do I want to become? Within conflict and contemplation the expression is what I have created.

We all seek love out of conflicts, and hopefully these pieces resonate with the struggles and seeking we all face through our lives.

Sincerely,

Kevin Berry
