

Artist Name: Thomas Voils

Creating art is something that helps to calm my mind and bring me peace. I do not consider myself a full fledged artist, but seeing the wonder and amazement in the viewers eyes makes me smile. The process in which I attempt to create art first starts in my minds eye. If I can visualize how the pieces fit together I then proceed to make the pieces.

When people see my work I hope they understand the patience that goes into such work. For example my cobra took 2 weeks to make the pieces and piece together. I choose modular origami due to it's flexibility in the creative process. As I mentioned earlier, if I can visualize then I can create. I've been creating for three years and the White Elephant was my first attempt.

I hope you've enjoyed viewing my works as much as I've enjoyed creating them.
