Skull Falls, Untitled

This years exhibition I am submitting 3 pieces of art, each one telling its own story that you choose to create your own or build your own imagination too. My story is what created these pieces of art. It is your own imagination that can create a different story to the art. For what ever your imagination is, let it lead you in the world of the unknown. I wish you all luck on creating your own story and I hope you all enjoy my imagination and visions.

Sincerely
