I made this piece because of my love for nature and the beauty in the skies. Whether it is the beginning, middle, or end of the day and no matter where I am, I can look at the sky and fall back to the surreal feeling of the infinite space and beauty. I named it Leave it all behind because now I am at the halfway hour, I have changed my life for the better and after 8 years it is now time to leave this life behind and move on.
