I have submitted one piece this year; I had other ideas but this one spoke to me prior to creating it.

I chose the title "Blending" because of what I have witnessed here in prison by far more than anywhere else. Red, Green, Yellow and Blue is what I have deemed applicable to prison culture. Much like the colors I have listed there is a multitude of Races, Origins and Ethnicity's that are found here.

As you blend together Red, Green, Yellow and Blue, due to them being primary colors, you can make any color but only as they work together as a team collectively. In prison the diversity of the inmates only allows us to be successful as we are learning daily how to put aside our Races, Origins and Ethnicity's and work together as a team.

We are all in here together and we are all God's children.
