Hello, This year I have some really Good pieces that I'd like to share, that also have some really deep meaning. The first, "Kailasa Dream" is based off of a dream I had, where I dreamt of myself as being, having, or achieving "Yoga" or union with Shiva, the Hindu diety, Six armed, Meditating, with something symbolic in each hand, and sitting in a Chair with lots of symbolism as well. In "Early morning songs in the park, this is my residual self image, not how I look, but rather how I feel my spirit looks, or thinks I should look, playing music in the park early in the morning for my friends, the birds and the squirrels, what I'm playing (or part of it) appears in the Tablature below the image, so if you are a musician you can hear it. In "The guitar is my rocket ship" you have a guitar flying through space up above the Earth, the 7 frets on the guitar (a real guitar has more) represent the Major notes or chords A, B, C, D, E, F, and G which are the roots of all music on the guitar is a stylized viking ship, an Electric Sun and a crying eye. In "Non-Proelio Fugitas" which is Latin for "Do not flee from Battle" which represents how we must fight to preserve the folk from extinction, to have a future.
