

Brandon Dowling

356-20

Devil's Cruiser

I started creating art as a child in an attempt to escape the troubling environment around me. I found it easier to escape the abuse and heartache inflicted upon me through the creation of Legos. I would constantly build crazy things like planes, trains, and cars without a builder's manual. As I grew up, I just stuck to it and here today, I create things to express my world views, emotions and thoughts.