God's Fight, Our Win

This scratch art piece is a product of my inspiration to the connection I had with my sister, Clarissa Gilbert, who died of cervical cancer, July 13th 2016. She was a fighter, and I want to encourage everyone to fight hard to beat whatever cancer presides in their lives. A cancer can be, literally, the chronic disease that has taken many from us already, or figuratively, any force that opposes our Godly purpose in life. I pray that you begin to live only in the very moment you are in, with pure hope, knowing that never giving up is a victory in itself. God Bless!!
