Statement and Poem

In a World like Today, we are all looking for Hope Longing for a Time in which Peace and harmony <sup>Spoke</sup> ~~Spoke~~ Calling from The rafters of Distraction and instant <sup>gratification</sup> an echo That can Be heard if each one of us Speaks, Letting go of old Thoughts and ideas of another
 We can imagine The Potential of one another.

There is a Saying That Speaks from the echoes of Hope.

"If you raise a son you will rule a Kingdom, if you raise a girl you will Build a Nation"

Its about time, we as a nation give what was Gal given and respect what has been by birth ordained.

So that we can live in a world like today as us hope Not as a longing of Things That Peace and harmony could have Spoke -
 - "An Echo Heard"

Im Flux (Eric Monton) Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti Native and see art as life its self fluid, flexible, and not meant to be contained but expresses in its rawest form as life itself
