

Artist Statement: 27th Annual Exhibition of Artists in Michigan Prisons

Artist Name: James Dynel

I believe that some people could go their whole lives without ever knowing that they could've been the greatest whatever. They never changed whatever to pursue whatever, so they settled for whatever. Change your mindset, change your life. Success looks different for everyone and the road to success is never the same as someone else's. Trust the process and know that where energy goes, energy flows. By applying positive thinking in everything you do, in every circumstance, and through every challenge, it will eventually create an overflow of abundance. Even though you may go through every emotion with pursuing your dream, never quit. Life is a marathon, and as long as you stay consistently consistent with elevating yourself mentally, physically, and spiritually, success is yours to have, live, and experience. Peace and Blessings be multiplied unto you.

- James Dynel

Please edit your Artist Statement to fit the space provided.