

Artist Name: Susan Brown

Out of All of the materials used to create my Art LOVE is the most important.

Life beyond life in prison doesn't exist for many however death inside of life in prison exist for everyone. A six letter word Killed me, Denied! My desired dream died in August of 2015 After 3 long years of my Anticipated release But thanks to the University of Michigan & PCAP I live on.

The pieces this year represent All of me. May my footstake to keep falling Forward be felt in my work "Reflection" is how I see myself. A skinned carcass, just a shell of who I am. A ram skull but still beautiful.

"Insight by Susan Brown" Becoming freed is an uphill battle. There is hope for a waterfall of tranquility as time passes the silver lining has been the ray of sunshine PCAP brings. In honor of All you have done for everyone may I Present Insight!

"Mistake" is something so simple and bleak can still be framed beautifully.
