

Artist Name: USNDN-Wolf

I've been drawing or painting most of my life I've tried it all, pencil, colored pencil, acrylic, oils and most recently water color I like to challenge myself, and it seems to me that watercolor is the hardest so far.

This years submissions are for the most part all graphite or pencil. Some thing happened in my life that was beyond my control, and my art materials I was very limited.

The one I like ~~best~~ the best this year is "Buddy", a drawing of my childhood horse -

I do have a lat entry called "Spiritual Brothers", a Holy Face of an endear and a 1/2 face of a wolf. This one is done in graphite and water color. The scratch art piece is my first attempt at this and I really liked this type of art.
