

Artist Statement: 27th Annual Exhibition of Artists in Michigan Prisons

Artist Name: Michael Waldron

My art and style are very important to me and how it is expressed on the canvass. I love Acrylic paint because it allows me to do so many different techniques. The two pieces I painted this year were two different styles. And they are on different media bases. My end goal is to make you feel as if you went or have been in a place before, when you see my art. My hope is to share, inspire, and move others emotionally with ever piece I do. Thank you and

En Joy.
