Gone but Never Forgotten

"Life Line" I had chosen this artwork because it is an expression of what I believe flowing through my being.

I am a prolific writer, as I had written many novels. Writing is in my DNA while music is in my soul, as my heart beats to the rhythm of my artistic ways.

"Gone but never forgotten": I chosen this artwork for all the victims of 9-11. The dog is symbolic for strength and the dog tag is a reminder of those we lost on that day.

I personally love to make people smile and feel good about themselves, rather it's through my artwork or writing. I try to tell a story with my drawing as I do with my writing.
