

Artist Statement: 26th Annual Exhibition of Art by Michigan Prisoners

Artist Name: Dylan Dunlap (K.I.S.A.)

The piece, "Lonely Storm and Sorrow," that I provided for the exhibit came from a very personal place. It's a representation of somebody who has been very close to me for many years. Unfortunately, as beautiful as she is on the outside, she is just as broken on the inside. It always breaks my heart knowing that such an amazing person, with so much to offer this world will always be left isolated because of the storm raging inside of her. She projects all of her chaos, insecurities and self-inflicted short comings onto everything and everyone around her. She'll lie about anything and blame the world for problems created by nobody but herself. I'm still the closest to her, and I'll always see through her. No matter how many bridges she burns, or how isolated she becomes, I'll always be her home. One day; she'll weather her storm, she'll squander her sorrow, and she'll conquer her chaos. Through it all, I'll still love her. I do. I have. I will. Forever and always, - K.I.S.A
