

Artist Name: Terry Ulrich

I like to write and share my writings to others simply to give them a good thought or smile and just something to think about. Being incarcerated is not easy, but when i write, sometimes it may take me a month, others i write may come together in one day.

Writing places me in a different state of mind with the thoughts and ambitions of leaving here some day and enjoying the things i write and think about.

Life is only as hard as you make and peace of mind is key to an easy, positive attitude.

Dont worry, be happy.
