The Real Me at Last

Living life as a transgender woman is not easy. 5 years I have been fully "out" and that's only thanks to my hero, idol, and inspiration: Jazz Jennings. She helped me be myself. Now I make my art all about being myself in hopes that I, too, can inspire another to be themselves no matter what society or the world says. I love the thought of helping another embrace their FULL potential as Jazz has taught me to do.

Though my art is not great I hope I get my view of life and my pride, joy, & happiness across to another wonderful person. MAY WE ALL SHINE LIKE THE ANGELS WE ARE!!! SO, in hopes of inspiring at least one other...

HERE'S MY ART DEDICATED TO TRANS PEOPLE AROUND THE WORLD!!
