

RAWJR - a.k.a. Butchie Boi

4-20

EMERGENCE

In the chaotic environment that is prison, it is no less than difficult to find the inspiration to create Art. So when i viewed the entire PCAP Annual Exhibition of Art Video, that is shown on our prison movie channel, I was in Awe of the dedication of the PCAP staff. Their diligence to collect and display prisoner Art in an organized, timely manner is unparalleled.

It is what motivated me to gather the materials I employed to express and create my current submission for the Annual Art Exhibition.

It is my rendition of a woman who decided to discard the mask of meekness and boldly reveal her desire to ^{be} more than self-restrained.

I've titled the drawing "~~Emergence~~" "Emergence" I chose graphite pencils, colored pencils, and pastel chalk, to indite what i envisioned.