To be free of spaces confined I am able to have freedom of body and mind. Art to me gives me a vivid imagery of stories to unfold. Though captive I've found a way to be free mentally and part physically as my hands create the images that my mind brings to life. Emotionally I'm saturated in hope through freedom of mind through my imagery brought to life. My 1st Piece is a young child with big sorrowful eyes. So much responsibilities that she is robbed of her childhood. This is a woman child with a baby to take care of and school work to do while in middle school. My second piece is Hybrid Phoenix. She is alluring with her delicate features and big flamboyant wings. She is care-free and intriguing. My 3rd Piece is a graceful purple Poodle. Life only makes her head lift higher and her stride more graceful. She is whom I hope to be during times of struggle.
