I decided to crochet these two pieces in honor of my mother and Auntie for the many years I have spent in prison and they have been here for me, not being able to see them in these kinds of clothes, or just to take them out to eat, I often imagine what would it be like to go out with them for dancing or just for dinner, I know my day is coming soon to be released, but I can't help to think how much time has passed since then, so I'm hoping that someone else's mother or Auntie they just can spend time with them and enjoy ~~these~~ these clothes made out of love with hopes one day soon I will be able to be free and spend time with the two of the most important women in my life, but this is not a sad story, prison was not a waste of time, it was time well spent learning much as I could, developing new skills to help me and those I love be propelled to what's next for us all a better future for the King family
