This is my fifth year participating in the art show my first three years were dedicated to gaming maps and medieval cities. last year I took a chance and moved beyond maps and what I knew and began drawing fantasy art which resulted in last year's entry "the battle for lone spire" in the year since I have spent eight hours a day expanding my knowledge of shapes, proportions, and color correlations the result has been two fold the first being a massive increase in my patience and willingness to learn from my mistakes, the second has been an exponential increase in my abilities which I hope is evident in my selected art thank you for reading my statement and I hope you enjoy my art
