The current state of media and society seems to overwhelm America. Where's truth? Social media, artificial intelligence, and social development are unique points of a triangle of influence and definitions not many seem to care to be clear and concise on. Personally, as much of a challenge or burden it may appear, it is the greatest opportunity for self-expression ever!

Once the digital divide is crossed and decreasing in hindsight, this world will only have this invitation to realign, or recapture the inmost identity. So my two pieces represent the promise within of God; and the gateway (in/out) for these expressions; messages; symbols.
