

Artist Name: Koya Dogan

The whole idea that I came up with these topics of paintings, I wanted to show on how we're failing humanity. We turn the blind eye to people bad condition, and show little to no compassion, we walk around numb divided by politics, racial lines or religious belief. But we're failing to realize that we're created from the same sources of life. We have to be the cure and heal the heart of humanity.