

Artist Name: D. H.

Growing up I always loved the way animated & realism art were looked, in high school I took graphic design for 4 years as well as a year of Auto cad that allowed me to learn indesign, Illustrator, Photo shop, etc. These Programs broadened my horizon on art were in to a new light of animation and growing up mostly people watched Disney movies, I was one of them and to this day I still do but I love everything art because Love is the creative force that brought everything into existence through Allah (God).
