Artist Name:

MR. @MI UNDERSTOOD

I like to provoke people. Plus my sense of humor is odd so I think differently than most people should, or so I'm often reminded. I'm usually the political incorrect speaker in the debate, so I rarely talk to others. I use art to express my intention. With art I can be creative enough to provoke people enough into making them think lightly on ideas that they try not to feed themselves, because even though I'm an unattached being, I'm still human, and really we're all the same once we reach a common ground where we can laugh about incorrect things.
