

Artist Statement: 27th Annual Exhibition of Artists in Michigan Prisons

Artist Name: William Henderson

I love artwork. I love that we have the ability to create works that can potentially last throughout the test of time. When I make art whether it be drawings or poems, whatever, I use any materials I have on hand and figure out a way to incorporate the use of them in my finished products. Re-creations and remixes may be considered copies by many. But when done with care and addition of alternative elements they become something entirely different. They become original pieces with clear inspirational avenues.
