Flight is Beautiful

Before I can tell you about my art and why I draw it, I need to tell you about me and what and why things inspire me. I grew up with all kinds of animals as pets, from dogs to cats, fish, guinea pigs, hamsters, and even ferrets. I always loved animals and I'm even currently working for a company that takes rescue dogs and turns them into service dogs for veterans. When I was young and even now I was always fascinated about animals behavior and why they do certain things. I think its amazing what animal do in order to survive and take care of their own, they work their whole life just to live and I always think of them when I start to get ~~motivated~~ lazy or lack motivation. Animals inspire me and their actions speak louder than any words we have and that is why I love to study them and draw them cause I think this whole world should be more animal like and start contributing and be productive.
