

Artist Name: Timothy Fultz

Started Painting as a child and as I grew older stopped due to life. Once I got to prison I was looking for something to help relieve the stress of being here and to help get out some of the emotion. I remembered the joy I used to have painting and decided to reintroduce myself to it. I like to just sit down and put whatever I feel at the time to canvas. What happens, happens never planned. Always what I feel in the moment.
