I have been making works of art since my sophomore year of high school.

This is my first time entering this kind of show. When I am creating or working on a project I get an inner-sense of well being and when I have completed it I feel a sense of euphoria.

Since being down I have learned to do more with less, being able to repurpose and reuse items has been a challenge to my creativity, but I welcome the challenge.

Working on an art project gives me an escape from my surroundings and in this place any escape is welcome.

Thank you for this program.
